Invites you to a
IEP Workbook Workshop
June 9, 2009

This training is designed for parents of children who have special education needs.

This is an interactive workshop where parents of children who receive special education services take all of the educational records, and organize them into a record keeping book. This workshop will assist parents in becoming more organized in the planning of their child's education, and the CSE process. Even if your child's CSE meeting has occurred this year, you will organize your material and be set for the year ahead and for next year's meeting.
